‘That which is bright and is subtler than the subtle, and that on which are fixed all the worlds as well as the dwellers of the worlds, is this immutable Brahman; It is this vital force; It, again, is speech and mind. This entity that is such, is true. It is immortal. It is to be penetrated. O good-looking one, shoot (at it).’

(Muṇḍaka Upaniṣad II.ii.ii.)

“All that is needed at this moment is a real and sincere work on language. With confidence and slow speed, one needs to keep to the study and wait for the light of reality to emerge.”

(Śrī Śāntānanda Sarasvatī Conversations 1976, 10.7)
